Senators won't do the Cha-cha

By Christine O. Avendaño
and Juliet Labog-Jarellana

DON'T expect the Senate to dance to the House's cha-cha tune at this time.

Reacting to a recent House committee move to place Charter change in the chamber's agenda, Senate President Franklin Drilon yesterday said the Senate's legislative calendar did not include taking up the proposal to amend the 1987 Constitution.

"We are prioritizing what we think are solutions to our economic problems," Drilon said in Filipino.

He said the senators were busy with discussions on the proposed 2005 national budget as well as revenue-raising and deficit-reducing measures.

He noted that President Macapagal-Arroyo wanted Congress to approve the tax measures designed to cope with the country's fiscal problems.

Earlier this week, the House committee on constitutional amendments passed a proposal for a resolution calling for House and Senate members to constitute themselves into a constituent assembly to introduce and approve changes to the Constitution.

The move was immediately assailed by administration Senators Joker Arroyo and Miriam Defensor-Santiago who questioned the timing of the proposal when senators were busy deliberating on the bill to increase the value-added tax rate.

The constituent assembly proposal needs to go through the Senate for approval.

Malacañang advised the House members to postpone deliberations on Charter change until after all proposed tax measures aimed at solving the country's fiscal problems were passed.

Yesterday, Executive Secretary Eduardo Ermita said the congressmen did not even need to wait for the one-year moratorium against all Charter change talk to lapse before tackling Cha-cha for as long as they deliver the measures needed to reach the P80 billion additional revenue target.

Only after those tax measures are passed can they consider political legislation like Cha-cha, Ermita said.

In July 2004, the President, Drilon and Speaker Jose de Venecia agreed to shelve the issue of Charter change to concentrate on needed legislation to contain the budget deficit.

Ermita said Ms Arroyo would convene a meeting of the joint Legislative-Executive Advisory Council when she believes the P80 billion target was capable of being met.

Presidential Adviser Gabriel Claudio, who acts as Malacañang's legislative liaison, said the Palace was not even looking anymore at how many of the eight tax measures it submitted can be passed but on the amount that can be raised from whatever measures are approved.

Claudio said the Palace was hoping that the VAT bill, which is expected to bring in the bulk of the targeted P80 billion, can be passed before Congress breaks for Lent on March 19.

But he said it would be premature to speculate that deliberations on the Cha-cha can start as soon as the VAT measure is passed, or when Congress sessions resume on April 11.

"To speculate on the timetable, form and substance of Charter change now is therefore only counterproductive," Claudio said.

2 Europeans rescued off Boracay

TWO EUROPEANS vacationing on Boracay island in Aklan were rescued after their small sailboat capsized when it was swamped by waves on Wednesday afternoon.

A passing vessel spotted 47-year-old German national Holger Berlet and 41-year-old Swiss national Stephan Joller and plucked them out of the water after they drifted for two hours.

The Coast Guard said the two tourists rented the two-seater boat on Wednesday to sail on the waters off Boracay, a popular tourist destination famed for its beaches. But the water became rough and at around 3 p.m. a wave overturned the boat and knocked the two into the water.

The two tourists had been drifting for two hours on the waters off the western portion of the island when they were spotted by the M/V Maria Felisa, a roll-on, roll-off vessel bound for Roxas in Mindoro.

They were taken aboard and later brought back to Boracay, where they were reported to be in good condition. They suffered no serious injuries, said Coast Guard spokesperson Lt. Armand Balilo.

The island had been hosting a steady stream of foreign tourists after tsunamis swamped South Asian countries and ravaged beach resorts a day after Christmas, leaving hundreds of thousands of people dead.

Arrest warrant out for GMA foe

By Philip C. Tubeza

LINDA Olaguer-Montayre, a staunch critic of President Macapagal-Arroyo, is facing arrest in connection with an alleged plot to overthrow the government days before her inauguration for a fresh six-year term last June 30.

The arrest order, issued on Jan. 3 by Quezon City Judge Maria Theresa de la Torre-Yadso, sought the apprehension of Montayre on charges of rebellion filed against her by the Department of Justice last September. Rebellion is a nonbailable offense.

The copy of the arrest order was released to the media only yesterday by government prosecutors.

Montayre, a former nun and secretary general of the Philippine Consultative Assembly, was allegedly one of the brains behind the plot to thwart Ms Arroyo's inauguration last year through bombings and assassinations of Senate President Franklin Drilon and Speaker Jose De Venecia.

State Prosecutor Emmanuel Velasco said the alleged plot was uncovered in the last week of June after bombs were found before they were detonated at the Department of Interior and Local Government building in Quezon City, the Department of Defense building in Camp Aguinaldo, and the Santuario de San Antonio Parish in Forbes Park, Makati City.

More credible witnesses

Velasco said the case against Montayre was based on sworn statements of lawyer Roberto Camarista, William B. Ramos and Wilfredo Diamante, who were earlier charged with rebellion. The DOJ wanted them to turn state witnesses.

"A clear analysis of the evidence presented by all parties shows that the allegations of respondents Camarista, Ramos and Diamante are more credible and logical than the bare denials of respondent Montayre," Velasco said.

In his signed affidavit, Camarista claimed that it was Montayre who "actually planned, directed and provided logistical means" to ensure that the plot was successful.
